This limited independent operating experience, makes it difficult to assess our future prospects and historic growth rates or results of operations may not be representative or reliable indicators of our future performance. While we intend to continue to expand our operations in India, we may not be able to sustain historic growth levels, and may not be able to leverage our experience in our existing markets in order to grow our business in new markets. If our operations continue to grow, of which there can be no assurance, we will be required to continue to expand our sales and marketing, product development and distribution functions, to upgrade our management information systems and other processes, and to obtain more space for our expanding administrative support and other headquarters personnel. Our continued growth could increase the strain on our resources, and we could experience serious operating difficulties, including difficulties in hiring, training and managing an increasing number of employees, difficulties in obtaining sufficient raw materials and manufacturing capacity to produce our apparel, and delays in production and shipments which will adversely affect our business.

26. Any downgrading of India’s debt rating by a domestic or international rating agency could have a negative impact on our business.

India’s sovereign debt rating could be downgraded due to various factors, including changes in tax or fiscal policy or a decline in India’s foreign exchange reserves, which are outside our control. Any adverse revisions to India’s credit ratings for domestic and international debt by domestic or international rating agencies may adversely impact our ability to raise additional financing, and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such additional financing is available. This could have a material adverse effect on our business and financial performance, ability to obtain financing for capital expenditures and the price of our Equity Shares.

27. Our results of operations may be materially adversely affected by our failure to anticipate and respond to changes in fashion trends and consumer preferences in a timely manner.

Our results of operations depend upon the continued demand by consumers for our products. We believe that our success depends in large part upon our ability to anticipate, gauge and respond in a timely manner to changing fashion trends and consumer demands and preferences and upon the appeal of our products. If we are unable to anticipate consumer preferences or industry changes, or if we are unable to modify our products on a timely basis, we may lose customers or become subject to greater pricing pressure.

Our business is sensitive to changing consumer preferences, including changes in consumer acceptance of our products, all of which may be caused by many factors that are generally beyond our control. Some or all of our concepts and designs may become less attractive in light of changing consumer preferences, and we may be unable to adapt to such changes in a timely manner. Any change in consumer preferences that decreases demand could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Hence, we have not appointed any monitoring agency to monitor the utilization of Issue proceeds. However, the audit committee of our Board will monitor the utilization of Issue proceeds in terms of Clause 52 of SME Listing Agreement. Further, our Company shall inform about material deviations in the utilization of Issue proceeds to the BSE Limited and shall also simultaneously make the material deviations / adverse comments of the audit committee public.

29. Our insurance coverage may not adequately protect us against certain operating risks and this may have as adverse effect on the results of our business.

We are insured for a risks associated with our manufacturing business, through policies such as Standard Fire and Special Perils Insurance Policy. We believe we have got our assets adequately insured; however there can be no assurance that any claim under the insurance policies maintained by us will be honoured fully, in part or on time, to cover all material losses. To the extent that we suffer any loss or damage that is not covered by insurance or exceeds our insurance coverage, our business and results of operations could be adversely affected.

Our policy of covering these risks through insurance may not always be effective or adequate. Failure to effectively cover ourselves against the associated risks for any of these reasons including other unforeseen circumstances could expose us to substantial costs and potentially lead to material losses. Faults in designing and installation might also require repair work, which may not be foreseen or covered by our insurance. In addition, if there is a customer dispute regarding our performance or workmanship, the customer may delay or withhold payment to us. For details on insurance policies taken by our Company please page no. 95 in chapter titled “Our Business” of Prospectus.

30. Our Company exports its products in Middle East Countries and also covered under the Import and Export policy.

The Company is exporting its Products to Middle East Countries which are covered under Foreign Trade (Development and Regulation) Act, 1992 and the authority has enforced various types of legal frameworks in terms of different Acts and policies. Any failure to fulfill to comply with these exports policy will result in obligation on our Company and will adversely impact our prospective Exports Sales and financial position of the Company.

31. Our inability to maintain an optimal level of inventory for our business may impact our operations adversely.

Our daily operations largely depend on consistent inventory control which is generally dependent on our projected sales in different months of the year. It also largely depends on the fashion forecast and trends for the forthcoming season. An optimal level of inventory is important to our business as it allows us to respond to customer demand effectively and to maintain a range of garments. If we over-stock inventory, our required working capital will increase and if we under-stock inventory, our ability to meet consumer demand and our operating results may be adversely affected. Any mismatch between our planning and the actual off take by customers can impact us adversely.

32. Our Promoters, together with our Promoter Group will continue to retain majority shareholding in our Company after the Offer, which will allow them to exercise significant control over us. We cannot assure you that our Promoters and Promoter Group will always act in the best interests of the Company or you.

The majority of our issued and outstanding Equity Shares are currently beneficially owned by the Promoters and the Promoter Group. Upon completion of the Offer, the Promoters and Promoter Group will own 16,92,250 Equity Shares, or 62.85% of our post-Offer Equity Share capital, assuming full subscription of the Offer. Accordingly, the Promoters and the Promoter Group will continue to exercise significant influence over our business policies and affairs and all matters requiring shareholders approval, including the composition of the Board of Directors, the adoption of amendments to our constitutional documents, lending, investments and capital expenditures. This concentration of ownership also may delay, defer or even prevent a change in control of our company and may make some transactions more difficult or impossible without the support of these stockholders. The interests of the Promoters and Promoter Group as the Company’s controlling shareholders could conflict with the Company’s interests or the interests of its other shareholders. We cannot assure you that the Promoters and Promoter Group will act to resolve any conflicts of interest in the Company’s or your favour.

33. We are highly dependent on smooth supply and transportation and timely delivery of our products from our manufacturing facilities to our customers. Various uncertainties and delays or non delivery of our products will affect our sales.

We currently rely upon third-party transportation providers for substantially all of our product distribution. Our utilization of delivery services for shipments is subject to risks, including increases in fuel prices, which would increase our delivery costs, and employee strikes and inclement weather, which may impact the ability of providers to provide delivery services that adequately meet our transportation needs. If we lose one or more of our transportation providers, we may not be able to obtain terms as favorable as those we receive from the third party transportation providers that we currently use, which in turn would increase our costs and thereby adversely affect our operating results. Further, disruptions of transportation services because of weather related problems, strikes, lock-outs, inadequacies in road infrastructure or other events could impair our procurement of raw materials and our ability to supply our products to our customers which in turn may adversely affect our business operations and our financial condition.

34. We may in the future face potential liabilities from lawsuits or claims by consumers including product liability claims.

Since we operate in the garment manufacturing sector, we may face the risk of potential legal proceedings and claims being brought against us by our customers/wholesaler for any defective product sold or any dissatisfaction caused to them. In the event that we are found to be liable for any product liability claim, we could be required to pay substantial monetary damages. Although, we maintain sufficient coverage of insurance for our products, the compensation awarded to us by the insurance company may not be adequate to compensate the claimants. Further, even if we successfully defend ourselves against a claim, or successfully claim back compensation from others, we may need to spend a substantial amount of time and money in defending such a claim and in seeking compensation, and our reputation could suffer.

35. Delay in raising funds from the IPO could adversely impact the implementation schedule.

The proposed fund requirement of working capital, as detailed in the section titled "Objects of the Issue" is to be partly funded from the proceeds of this IPO. We have not identified any alternate source of funding and hence any failure or delay on our part to mobilize the required resources or any shortfall in the Issue proceeds may delay the implementation schedule. We therefore, cannot assure that we would be able to execute our future plans/strategy within the given timeframe.

36. Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend upon our future earnings, financial condition, cash flows, working capital requirements, capital expenditure and restrictive covenants in our financing arrangements.

We may retain all our future earnings, if any, for use in the operations and expansion of our business. As a result, we may not declare dividends in the foreseeable future. Any future determination as to the declaration and payment of dividends will be at the discretion of our Board of Directors and will depend on factors that our Board of Directors deem relevant, including among others, our results of operations, financial condition, cash requirements, business prospects and any other financing arrangements. Accordingly, realization of a gain on shareholders investments may largely depend upon the appreciation of the price of our Equity Shares. There can be no assurance that our Equity Shares will appreciate in value.

EXTERNAL RISK FACTORS

37. Foreign investors are subject to foreign investment restrictions under Indian law that limits our ability to attract foreign investors, which may adversely impact the market price of the Equity Shares.

Under the foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, transfers of shares between nonresidents and residents are freely permitted (subject to certain exceptions) if they comply with the pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If the transfer of shares, which are sought to be transferred, is not in compliance with such pricing guidelines or reporting requirements or fall under any of the exceptions referred to above, then the prior approval of the RBI will be required. Additionally, shareholders who seek to convert the Rupee proceeds from a sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India will require a no objection/ tax clearance certificate from the income tax authority. There can be no assurance that any approval required from the RBI or any other government agency can be obtained on any particular terms or at all.

38. Regional hostilities, terrorist attacks, communal disturbances, civil unrest and other acts of violence or war involving India and other countries may result in a loss of investor confidence and adversely affect the financial markets and our business.

Terrorist attacks, civil unrest and other acts of violence or war may negatively affect the Indian markets on which our Equity Shares will trade and also adversely affect the worldwide financial markets. In addition, the Asian region has from time to time experienced instances of civil unrest and hostilities among neighboring countries. Hostilities and tensions may occur in the future and on a wider scale. Military activity or terrorist attacks in India, such as the attacks in Mumbai in November 2008 and in July 2011, may result in investor concern about stability in the region, which may adversely affect the price of our Equity Shares. Events of this nature in the future, as well as social and civil unrest within other countries in Asia, could influence the Indian economy and could have an adverse effect on the market for securities of Indian companies, including our Equity Shares.

39. There is no existing market for our Equity Shares, and we do not know if one will develop. Our stock price may be highly volatile after the Issue and, as a result, you could lose a significant portion or all of your investment.

Prior to the Issue, there has not been a public market for our Equity Shares. We cannot predict the extent to which investor interest will lead to the development of an active trading market on the Stock Exchanges or how liquid that market will become. If an active market does not develop, you may experience difficulty selling our Equity Shares that you purchased. The Issue Price is not indicative of prices that will prevail in the open market following the Issue. Consequently, you may not be able to sell your Equity Shares at prices equal to or greater than the Issue Price. The market price of our Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges may fluctuate after listing as a result of several factors.

40. There can be no assurance that our Company's securities will continue to be listed on the Stock Exchanges.

Pursuant to the listing of our Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges, we will be required to comply with certain regulations and/or guidelines as prescribed by SEBI and the Stock Exchanges. However, in the event that we fail to comply with any of the aforesaid regulations and/or guidelines, there can be no assurance that our Equity Shares will continue to be listed on the Stock Exchanges.

41. Any changes in regulations or applicable government incentives would materially affect our operations and growth prospects.

We are subject to various regulations and policies. For details see section titled "Key Industry Regulations and Policies" beginning on page 97 of the Prospectus. Our business could be materially affected by changes in any of these regulations and policies, including the introduction of new laws, policies or regulations or changes in the interpretation or application of existing laws, policies and regulations. There can be no assurance that we will succeed in obtaining all requisite regulatory approvals in the future for our operations or that compliance issues will not be raised in respect of our operations, either of which would have a material adverse affect on our business, financial condition and results of operations

42. We are exposed to currency exchange risks. Any adverse fluctuation in currency exchange rates may adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

While most of our revenues are denominated in Indian Rupees, certain portion of our revenues and expenses are denominated in currencies other than Indian Rupees, primarily U.S. Dollars. The exchange rate between the Indian Rupee and the U.S. Dollar has fluctuated substantially in recent years and may continue to fluctuate significantly in the future. Depreciation of the Indian Rupee against foreign currencies may adversely affect our results of operations. Currently, the Company does not use foreign currency forward contracts or other derivative instruments to hedge its risks associated with foreign currency fluctuations. There can be no assurance that any such forward contracts or similar hedging mechanisms that we may enter into in the future will be effective or adequate to cover any losses arising from foreign currency fluctuations.

43. Instability of economic policies and the political situation in India could adversely affect the fortunes of the industry.

Unstable internal and international political environment could impact the economic performance in both the short term and the long term. The Government of India has pursued the economic liberalization policies including relaxing restrictions on the private sector over the past several years. The present Government has also announced policies and taken initiatives that support continued economic liberalization. The Government has traditionally exercised and continues to exercise a significant influence over many aspects of the Indian economy. Our Company's business, and the market price and liquidity of the Equity Shares, may be affected by changes in interest rates, changes in Government policy, taxation, social and civil unrest and other political, economic or other developments in or affecting India.

44. Our transition to the use of the IFRS-converged Indian Accounting Standards may adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

India has decided to adopt the “Convergence of its existing standards with IFRS” and not the “International Financial Reporting Standards” (“IFRS”). These “IFRS based / synchronized Accounting Standards” are referred to in India as IND (AS). Public companies in India, including our Company, may be required to prepare annual and interim financial statements under IND (AS) in accordance with the roadmap for the convergence with IFRS announced by the Ministry of Corporate Affairs, Government of India (the “MCA”), through the press note dated January 22, 2010. The MCA, through a press release dated February 25, 2011, announced that it will implement the converged accounting standards in a phased manner after various issues, including tax related issues, are resolved. Accordingly, it is not possible to quantify whether our financial results will vary significantly due to the convergence to IND (AS), given that the accounting principles laid down in the IND (AS) are to be applied to transactions and balances carried in books of accounts as on the date of the applicability of IND (AS) and for future periods. Further, we have made no attempt to quantify or identify the impact of the differences between Indian GAAP and IND (AS) as applied to our financial statements. There can be no assurance that the adoption of IND (AS) will not affect our reported results of operations or financial condition. Any failure to successfully adopt IND (AS) may have an adverse effect on the trading price of our Equity Shares.

45. The extent and reliability of Indian infrastructure could adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

India’s physical infrastructure is less developed than that of many developed countries. Any congestion or disruption in its port, rail and road networks, electricity grid, communication systems or any other public facility could disrupt our normal business activity. Any deterioration of India’s physical infrastructure would harm the national economy, disrupt the transportation of goods and supplies, and add costs to doing business in India. These problems could interrupt our business operations, which could have an adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition.

46. Instability of economic policies and the political situation in India or elsewhere could adversely affect the fortunes of the industry.

There is no assurance that the liberalization policies of the government will continue in the future. Protests against privatization could slow down the pace of liberalization and deregulation. The Government of India plays an important role by regulating the policies governing the private sector over the past several years.

Unstable internal and international political environment could impact the economic performance in both the short term and the long term. The Government has traditionally exercised and continues to exercise a significant influence over many aspects of the Indian economy. Our Company’s business, and the market price and liquidity of the Equity Shares, may be affected by changes in interest rates, changes in the Government policy, taxation, social and civil unrest and other political, economic or other developments in or affecting India.

47. The occurrence of natural disasters may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The occurrence of natural disasters, including hurricanes, floods, earthquakes, tornadoes, fires and pandemic disease may adversely affect our financial condition or results of operations. The potential impact of a natural disaster on our results of operations and financial position is speculative, and would depend on numerous factor. The extent and severity of these natural disasters determines their effect on the Indian economy. Although the long term effect of diseases such as the H5N1 “avian flu” virus, or H1N1, the swine flu virus, cannot currently be predicted, previous occurrences of avian flu and swine flu had an adverse effect on the economies of those countries in which they were most prevalent. An outbreak of a communicable disease in India would adversely affect our business and financial conditions and results of operations. We cannot assure you that such events will not occur in the future or that our business, financial condition and results of operations will not be adversely affected.

48. Any downgrading of India's debt rating by a domestic or international rating agency could negatively impact our business.

Any adverse revisions to India's credit ratings for domestic and international debt by domestic or international rating agencies may adversely impact our ability to raise additional financing, and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such additional financing is available. This could have an adverse effect on our financial results and business prospects, ability to obtain financing for capital expenditures and the price of our Equity Shares.

49. We have not independently verified certain data in this Prospectus.

We have not independently verified data from industry publications contained herein and although we believe these sources to be reliable, we cannot assure you that they are complete or reliable. Such data may also be produced on a different basis from comparable information compiled with regard to other countries. Therefore, discussions of matters relating to India and its economy are subject to the caveat that the statistical and other data upon which such discussions are based have not been verified by us and may be incomplete or unreliable.

50. If certain labour laws become applicable to us, our profitability may be adversely affected.

India has stringent labour legislations that protect the interests of workers, including legislation that sets forth detailed procedures for dispute resolution and employee removal and legislation that imposes certain financial obligations on employers upon retrenchment. Any change or modification in the existing labour laws may affect our flexibility in formulating labour related policies.

51. Wage pressures in India may prevent our Company from sustaining its competitive advantage and may reduce its profit margins.

Wage costs in India have historically been significantly lower than the wage costs in the developed countries for comparably skilled professionals in the textile industry, which has been one of our competitive strengths. However, wage increases in India may prevent us from sustaining this competitive advantage and may negatively affect our profit margins. The buoyancy in the Indian textile industry with the opening up of global trade may lead to an increase in wage costs which could result in increased cost for textile professionals. This can impact the performance and margins of players in the industry in India and may result in a material adverse effect on our business.

52. Probable opposition to sourcing textiles and apparel from India.

There is a concern in the US over the domestic textile industry being rendered uncompetitive in face of the mounting competition from the cheap garments being exported from China into the country. As a result, there have been restrictions imposed by the US on cheap imports of textiles and garments from China in order to protect the domestic industry. This could be an indication of similar restrictions being laid on other exporters like India in future.

53. A decline in India's foreign exchange reserves or decrease in value of rupee in comparison to foreign currency may affect liquidity and interest rates in the Indian economy, which could adversely affect our financial condition.

According to a 'Weekly Statistical Supplement' released by RBI on February 28, 2014, India's foreign exchange reserves totaled approximately USD 18,244.90 Billion as of February 21, 2014. India's foreign exchange reserves have declined recently and may have negatively affected the valuation of the Rupee. Further declines in foreign exchange reserves could adversely affect the valuation of the Rupee and could result in reduced liquidity and higher interest rates that could adversely affect our future financial condition and the market price of the Equity Shares.

Global Economy Outlook

- Lower growth in China and its implications for emerging Asia: Investment growth in China declined in the third quarter of 2014, and leading indicators point to a further slowdown. The authorities are now expected to put greater weight on reducing vulnerabilities from recent rapid credit and investment growth and hence the forecast assumes less of a policy response to the underlying moderation. Slower growth in China will also have important regional effects, which partly explains the downward revisions to growth in much of emerging Asia. In India, the growth forecast is broadly unchanged, however, as weaker external demand is offset by the boost to the terms of trade from lower oil prices and a pickup in industrial and investment activity after policy reforms.
- A much weaker outlook in Russia: The projection reflects the economic impact of sharply lower oil prices and increased geopolitical tensions, both through direct and confidence effects. Russia’s sharp slowdown and ruble depreciation have also severely weakened the outlook for other economies in the Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS) group.
- Downward revisions to potential growth in commodity exporters: In many emerging and developing commodity exporters, the projected rebound in growth is weaker or delayed compared with the October 2014 projections, as the impact of lower oil and other commodity prices on the terms of trade and real incomes is now projected to take a heavier toll on medium-term growth. For instance, the growth forecast for Latin America and the Caribbean has been reduced to 1.3 percent in 2015 and 2.3 percent in 2016. Although some oil exporters, notably members of the Cooperation Council for the Arab States of the Gulf, are expected to use fiscal buffers to avoid steep government spending cuts in 2015, the room for monetary or fiscal policy responses to shore up activity in many other exporters is limited. Lower oil and commodity prices also explain the weaker growth forecast for sub-Saharan Africa, including a more subdued outlook for Nigeria and South Africa.

Indian Apparel Market

The Indian apparel market has demonstrated resilience and growth in an environment characterized by slow economic growth. The domestic apparel market, which was worth INR 207,400 crore (~USD 38 billion) as of 2012, is expected to grow at a compound average growth rate (CAGR) of 9% over the next decade. Further, the recent omission of excise duty on branded apparel has provided an impetus to retailers in terms of the overall market sentiment.

The Mens wear Market

With a market size of INR 87,500 crore (USD 16 billion) in 2012, men’s wear is the largest segment in India’s apparel market, accounting for 42% of the overall market. In comparison, woman’s wear makes up 38%, while kids wear comprises 20%, of the market.

Market Size and Growth Projections

The men’s wear market can be divided into various categories including woven shirts, trousers, denims, winterwear, innerwear, T-shirts, suits, activewear, ethnic wear and dailywear. The woven shirts category is the single largest within the menswear market, followed by trousers and denim. The menswear market is expected to grow at a CAGR of 8.5% over the next five years to reach INR 131,000 crore (USD 24 billion) by 2017.

High Growth Categories

Denim, activewear and T-shirts are high growth categories within menswear segment with CAGRs of 16%, 14%, and 12% respectively. Despite the not so optimistic economic scenario of 2012, the demand for denim is growing among men, especially with the younger generation. The entire denim market of India hinges around the men's denim segment which contributes 80% to the market. The heightened acceptance of casual or 'Friday' dressing, and the penetration of denim into Tier II and Tier III cities and rural India are contributing to the growth of men's denim in India. The activewear category primarily constitutes of sportswear, gymwear, and swimwear. Increasing health consciousness has made sports, gym, jogging, swimming, yoga, etc. an essential part of modern life, especially in metros, as a result of which the demand for activewear is on the rise within Indian menswear market. The shift from formal attire to comfort-oriented casual attire is driving the market for men's T-shirts, alongside the demand for denim.

Market Trends

Menswear consumers are in a phase of transition; they no longer want to stick to wearing apparel of defined styles and silhouette but also want to experiment with the look of the clothing. The demand for occasion-specific clothing is rising within the menswear segment, e.g., the modern Indian male can be seen in activewear at the gym in the morning; in formal shirts, trousers, and suits during office hours; in smart casuals in the evening; and in dailywear/sleepwear at night. The demand for ethnic dressing at special occasions like marriages and social functions is also a distinct trend. Many brands have specifically forayed into men's ethnicwear to cater to this demand.

The menswear segment is also witnessing an increase in the demand for colored bottomwear. In addition to the traditional colours, viz. black, blue, brown and grey, Indian men have started experimenting with newer colours like red, green, orange, etc. Almost all domestic and international brands have started offering men's bottomwear in newer colours; they are also optimistic about the growth of coloured trousers and denim.

Another interesting trend in the menswear market is the steady growth in the premium tailoring segment comprising the fashion designers and the bespoke / luxury segment. Customers in the super premium segment are willing to pay a premium to ensure that their tailor-made clothing reflects their own personality and also helps them differentiate themselves and get noticed.

The Womenswear Market

The INR 78, 500 crore (USD 14.4 billion) worth womenswear market contributes 38% of the total apparel market of India. The growth of this market is more rapid than the menswear market. With the relatively lower penetration of brands, and the growing disposable income of modern women, this segment has become the focus of many Indian and international brands.

Market Size and Growth Projections

The womenswear segment comprises various categories that include sarees, salwar kameez, innerwear, blouse, winterwear, sleepwear, tops/shirts, trousers, skirts, denim, T-shirts, etc. Indian ethnicwear, which includes saree, salwar kameez, and blouse, is the biggest category within the segment with a 75% share of the entire womenswear market. The market is expected to grow at a CAGR of 9% for the next five years to reach a figure of INR 121,400 crore (USD 22.3 billion) by 2017.

Denim, innerwear, and tops/shirts/T-shirts are the high growth categories within the womenswear segment, a consequence of the growing acceptance of women's westernwear in the Indian market. Denim is growing at CAGR of 17%, women's innerwear at 14%, and tops/shirts/T-shirts at 11%. Denim is penetrating deeper among women in the metros and mini metros, especially among the younger generation. Even working women in smaller cities have started accepting denim as a casual outfit. The growing focus of retailers and brands on women's denim will also contribute to its further penetration. The high growth of the innerwear category is driven by the transition of innerwear from a utility-based product to an aspirational one.

Market Trends

With increasing women in the workforce, and the growing economic independence of women, the demand for women's westernwear is at an all-time high, thanks to which women's westernwear is emerging a clear winner in the womenswear market. This trend is expected to continue as more women enter into the workforce or aspire to follow the lifestyle of working women. Within working women, there is a clear trend indicating the growing acceptance of women's dresses and western formalwear. The working women in the metros and mini metros, in addition to traditional sarees and salwar kameez, are moving towards dresses, formal suits, and business attire. Though these markets may remain relatively small, they are expected to grow rapidly.

Global Economy Outlook

Four key developments have shaped the global outlook since the release of the October 2014 WEO. First, oil prices in U.S. dollars have declined by about 55 percent since September. The decline is partly due to unexpected demand weakness in some major economies, in particular, emerging market economies—also reflected in declines in industrial metal prices. But the much larger decline in oil prices suggests an important contribution of oil supply factors, including the decision of the Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) to maintain current production levels despite the steady rise in production from non-OPEC producers, especially the United States. Oil futures prices point to a partial recovery in oil prices in coming years, consistent with the expected negative impact of lower oil prices on investment and future capacity growth in the oil sector.

Second, while global growth increased broadly as expected to 3¾ percent in the third quarter of 2014, up from 3¼ percent in the second quarter, this masked marked growth divergences among major economies. Specifically, the recovery in the United States was stronger than expected, while economic performance in all other major economies—most notably Japan—fell short of expectations. The weaker-than-expected growth in these economies is largely seen as reflecting ongoing, protracted adjustment to diminished expectations regarding medium-term growth prospects, as noted in recent issues of the WEO.

Third, with more marked growth divergence across major economies, the U.S. dollar has appreciated some 6 percent in real effective terms relative to the values used in the October 2014 WEO. In contrast, the euro and the yen have depreciated by about 2 percent and 8 percent, respectively, and many emerging market currencies have weakened, particularly those of commodity exporters.

Fourth, interest rates and risk spreads have risen in many emerging market economies, notably commodity exporters, and risk spreads on high-yield bonds and other products exposed to energy prices have also widened. Long-term government bond yields have declined further in major advanced economies, reflecting safe haven effects and weaker activity in some, while global equity indices in national currency have remained broadly unchanged since October.

Developments since the release of the October WEO have conflicting implications for the growth forecasts. On the upside, the decline in oil prices driven by supply factors—which, as noted, are expected to reverse only gradually and partially—will boost global growth over the next two years or so by lifting purchasing power and private demand in oil importers. The impact is forecast to be stronger in advanced economy oil importers, where the pass-through to end-user prices is expected to be higher than in emerging market and developing oil importers.

In the latter, more of the windfall gains from lower prices are assumed to accrue to governments (for example, in the form of lower energy subsidies), where they may be used to shore up public finances. However, the boost from lower oil prices is expected to be more than offset by an adjustment to lower medium-term growth in most major economies other than the United States. At 3.5 and 3.7 percent, respectively, global growth projections for 2015–16 have been marked down by 0.3 percent relative to the October 2014 WEO.

Among major advanced economies, growth in the United States rebounded ahead of expectations after the contraction in the first quarter of 2014, and unemployment declined further, while inflation pressure stayed more muted, also reflecting the dollar appreciation and the decline in oil prices. Growth is projected to exceed 3 percent in 2015–16, with domestic demand supported by lower oil prices, more moderate fiscal adjustment, and continued support from an accommodative monetary policy stance, despite the projected gradual rise in interest rates. But the recent dollar appreciation is projected to reduce net exports.

In the euro area, growth in the third quarter of 2014 was modestly weaker than expected, largely on account of weak investment, and inflation and inflation expectations continued to decline. Activity is projected to be supported by lower oil prices, further monetary policy easing (already broadly anticipated in financial markets and reflected in interest rates), a more neutral fiscal policy stance, and the recent euro depreciation. But these factors will be offset by weaker investment prospects, partly reflecting the impact of weaker growth in emerging market economies on the export sector, and the recovery is projected to be somewhat slower than forecast in October, with annual growth projected at 1.2 percent in 2015 and 1.4 percent in 2016.

In Japan, the economy fell into technical recession in the third quarter of 2014. Private domestic demand did not accelerate as expected after the increase in the consumption tax rate in the previous quarter, despite a cushion from increased infrastructure spending. Policy responses—additional quantitative and qualitative monetary easing and the delay in the second consumption tax rate increase—are assumed to support a gradual rebound in activity and, together with the oil price boost and yen depreciation, are expected to strengthen growth to above trend in 2015–16.

In emerging market and developing economies, growth is projected to remain broadly stable at 4.3 percent in 2015 and to increase to 4.7 percent in 2016—a weaker pace than forecast in the October 2014 WEO. Three main factors explain the downshift:

- Lower growth in China and its implications for emerging Asia: Investment growth in China declined in the third quarter of 2014, and leading indicators point to a further slowdown. The authorities are now expected to put greater weight on reducing vulnerabilities from recent rapid credit and investment growth and hence the forecast assumes less of a policy response to the underlying moderation. Slower growth in China will also have important regional effects, which partly explains the downward revisions to growth in much of emerging Asia. In India, the growth forecast is broadly unchanged, however, as weaker external demand is offset by the boost to the terms of trade from lower oil prices and a pickup in industrial and investment activity after policy reforms.
- A much weaker outlook in Russia: The projection reflects the economic impact of sharply lower oil prices and increased geopolitical tensions, both through direct and confidence effects. Russia's sharp slowdown and ruble depreciation have also severely weakened the outlook for other economies in the Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS) group
- Downward revisions to potential growth in commodity exporters: In many emerging and developing commodity exporters, the projected rebound in growth is weaker or delayed compared with the October 2014 projections, as the impact of lower oil and other commodity prices on the terms of trade and real incomes is now projected to take a heavier toll on medium-term growth. For instance, the growth forecast for Latin America and the Caribbean has been reduced to 1.3 percent in 2015 and 2.3 percent in 2016. Although some oil exporters, notably members of the Cooperation Council for the Arab States of the Gulf, are expected to use fiscal buffers to avoid steep government spending cuts in 2015, the room for monetary or fiscal policy responses to shore up activity in many other exporters is limited. Lower oil and commodity prices also explain the weaker growth forecast for sub-Saharan Africa, including a more subdued outlook for Nigeria and South Africa.

Global Apparel Market

Introduction:

The global apparel and fashion trade is expected to grow to USD1 trillion by 2020. However with growth slowing down in developed markets, the dynamics of the global fashion market are expected to change dramatically. Emerging economies will fuel most of the growth in the fashion market. Brazil, Russian, India & China (BRIC) along with few other South-East Asian countries are seen as the major growth drivers

In addition to this, global apparel markets in the recent past have shown a paradigm shift, moving towards increased product differentiation, and catering to a diverse, aware, and demanding customer base. Retailers have thus gravitated toward demographic shifts, societal influences, economic influence, and environmental concerns. With growth in developed economics cooling, retailers are facing pressure due to restricted consumer spending. Under such conditions the global apparel value chain has shown a distinct shift both at the front- and supply-end.

Pressure on Retailers due to restricted customer spending: Reduced consumer spend has put tremendous pressure on retailers, who are now looking at models along the lines of Zara in the EU and Macy's in the US to increase their offerings to the consumer. While on one hand big retailers in the US like JC Penney and Gap are redefining their market position by either moving into speciality stores or by creating a completely new shopping experience for the consumer, others are looking at promoting e-sales as much as possible. There is also an increased focus on retaining customers with policies such as loyalty programs etc. Shoppers today are more segmented by demographics, lifestyles, and cultures.

Retailers seek entry into global markets: Apart from their own domestic markets, retailers are increasingly looking for business opportunities in global markets. With the apparel market in the US and EU getting saturated, a paradigm shift is seen in the markets of Asia and South America. The BRIC countries with their positive GDPs have been attracting global retailers. Most large retailers have been working out of China where they have access to a large young population with a significant capacity to spend. The large geography of China also allows an opportunity to upscale operations. India has had its regulatory issues and a high cost of operations primarily due to expensive real estate. Even these have not deterred retailers to look at India as an interesting option. However, India is yet to see the same influx as China has seen over the last 5 to 6 years.

Fast fashion and customization to gain control over supply chain: Today, consumers prefer to buy apparel that matches their status and lifestyle, and also suits their needs and aspirations. Most retailers would like to offer a complete range of products from higher to mid-market segment. Affordable fashion has almost become the key to improving sales. Customizing products to the needs of the consumer offers a high potential of improving business bottomlines. Bespoke services have seen a significantly large increase over the last 3 to 4 years and continue to show positive trends. Supply chain systems are also altered and reconfigured to reflect the changing desires and requirements of the customers. Retailers are exerting more efforts to curtail excess manufacturing expenses by maintaining a balance between demand and supply. Retailers such as Zara and H&M have successfully developed supply chains that facilitate quicker responses for fashion merchandise. Almost all retailers will continue to look at lower order quantities per style and reducing lead times as much as possible. Thus the typical sourcing time of 90 days could shrink to 75 days and, from 60 days, could drop to 45 days or even less in future. Also, when cotton prices went up retailers changed their product mix from cotton to synthetics, offering similar styles in lowcost alternatives. These will continue to be explored to ensure a wider choice for the consumer.

Adapting to next-generation technology: Many retailers are increasingly deploying interesting technologies to tap various channels for selling merchandise. Electronic shelf labelling, digital promotional displays, self-checkout and sales kiosks are being adapted by retailers to relate to their customers. Further, on line marketing through social networking websites is another opportunity that retailers are exploring.

Increased focus on Sustainability: Material trends favour going green. Apparel industry is turning greener these days with sustainable trends evolving into a major influence on the industry. Pressure is mounting on the apparel manufacturing sector to reduce the environmental impact of cultivating, processing, dyeing, bleaching, and making fabrics., thus pushing retailers towards a sustainable approach. Also retailers are expected to eliminate existing labour inequalities and exploitation, and have a fashion-forward approach towards the manufacturing process. Fibres from wood pulp, bamboo etc. will tend to gain higher importance.

Emerging Economies developing as Low-Cost Manufacturing Hubs : China enjoyed a dominant position in apparel and household textiles manufacturing for several years, as makers of these items located in developed nations such as the U.S. and Canada suffered a long period of decline. However, recent increases in the value of the Chinese currency, combined with rapidly rising labour costs, have put Chinese manufacturers in a much less competitive position. Competition from low-cost nations like Bangladesh, as well as Vietnam, Sri Lanka, Indonesia, Cambodia, India, Pakistan and elsewhere is intense, and a large portion of apparel manufacturing formerly done in China is moving to these areas at a rapid pace. While China continues to have a robust apparel manufacturing industry, it is moving up the industrial chain by fostering manufacturing that requires greater skills, better technology and more investment in advanced equipment. Such rapidly-evolving segments in China include Information Technology, automobiles, trains, aerospace, medical equipment and telecommunications gear. Low-cost countries such as Bangladesh have emerged as the largest gainer in the lower-value assembly segments of the value chain. At the same time, countries such as Sri Lanka, Turkey and even India are upgrading to higher-value segments, such as branding and design, which rely on higher-quality human capital to maintain their competitiveness. As a result, workforce skills will become increasingly important elements for developing countries to maintain and upgrade their position in the global apparel value chain. Some of the African countries and maybe Myanmar have the potential of increasing capacities of apparel manufacturing. The 'Global Apparel Manufacturing' report from IBISWorld forecasts a continuation of the trend of Chinese firms setting up their own brand-names and opening stores in foreign markets. The report also says that, given the competitive strength of China, the success of other low-cost source countries depends on their ability to develop an advantage in single-product categories. Further producers in Europe and the US, should see a rise in niche exports to India and China, driven by increasing demand for high-quality apparel from their growing affluent and middle classes. Manufacturing firms in the US and Europe may also find new opportunities to build their businesses by developing high-end products like tailored women's suits and jackets, according to the report. As regards current importing trends, key retailers have focused on product specific approach while defining sourcing strategies. Table below gives a current priority on the product-wise preferred sourcing destinations. In the past decade, China surged above all competition in terms of exporting more apparel products than any other country in the world. However, in the last year or so, China (South) has lost its competitiveness because of increased wages, labour unavailability, and changes in Chinese government policy. On one hand this has created concerns for global retailers, who were heavily dependent on sourcing from China (South). On the other hand, this has increased potential of extra business to countries like Bangladesh, India, Indonesia, and Vietnam.

Indian Textile Industry

Introduction

India's textiles sector is one of the mainstays of the national economy. It is also one of the largest contributing sectors of India's exports contributing 11 per cent to the country's total exports basket. The textiles industry is labour intensive and is one of the largest employers. The industry realised export earnings worth US$ 41.57 billion in 2013-14.

The textile industry has two broad segments, namely handloom, handicrafts, sericulture, power looms in the unorganised sector and spinning, apparel, garmenting, made ups in the organised sector.

Junction Fabrics and Apparels Limited

The Indian textiles industry is extremely varied, with a hand-spun and handwoven sector at one end of the spectrum, and the capital intensive sophisticated mill sector at the other. The decentralised power looms/ hosiery and knitting sector form the largest and knitting sector form the largest section of the Textiles Sector. The close linkage of the Industry to agriculture and the ancient culture, the traditions of the country make the Indian textiles sector unique in comparison to the textiles industry of other countries. This also provides the industry with the capacity to produce a variety of products suitable to the different market segments, both within and outside the country.

Market Size

The Indian textiles industry, currently estimated at around US $108 billion, is expected to reach US $ 141 billion by 2021. The industry is the second largest employer after agriculture, providing direct employment to over 45 million and 60 million people indirectly. The Indian Textile Industry contributes approximately 5 per cent to GDP, and 14 per cent to overall Index of Industrial Production (IIP).

The Indian textile industry has the potential to grow five-fold over the next ten years to touch US$ 500 billion mark on the back of growing demand for polyester fabric, according to a study by Wazir Advisors and PCI Xylenes and Polyester. The US$ 500 billion market figure consists of domestic sales of US$ 315 billion and exports of US$ 185 billion. The current industry size comprises domestic market of US$ 68 billion and exports of US$ 40 billion, according to Mr Prashat Agarwal, Managing Director, Wazir Advisors.

Apparel exports from India have registered a growth of 17.6 per cent in the period April—September 2014 over the same period in the previous financial year.

Investments

The textiles sector has witnessed a spurt in investment during the last five years. The industry (including dyed and printed) attracted foreign direct investment (FDI) worth US$ 1,522.51 million during April 2000 to December 2014. Some of the major investments in the Indian textiles industry are as follows:

- Reliance Industries Ltd (RIL) plans to enter into a joint venture (JV) with China-based Shandong Ruyi Science and Technology Group Co. The JV will leverage RIL's existing textile business and distribution network in India and Ruyi's state-of-the-art technology and its global reach.
- Giving Indian sarees a 'green' touch, Dupont has joined hands with RIL and Vipul Sarees for use of its renewable fibre product Sorona to make an 'environment-friendly' version of this ethnic ladieswear.
- Raymond has launched 'Regio Italia', a luxurious, elite and finest Italian fabric for its customers. Regio Italia is a fine collection of fabrics from Italy with the latest designs that is carefully woven and specially handpicked assortment of the best designs in formal and occasion menswear suiting fabrics.
- Snapdeal has partnered with India Post to jointly work on bringing thousands of weavers and artisans from Varanasi through its website. "This is an endeavour by Snapdeal and India Post to empower local artisans, small and medium entrepreneurs to sustain their livelihood by providing a platform to popularise their indigenous products," said Mr Kunal Bahl, CEO and Co-Founder, Snapdeal.
- Welspun India Ltd (WIL), part of the Welspun Group has unveiled its new spinning facility at Anjar, Gujarat - the largest under one roof in India. The expansion project reflects the ethos of the Government of Gujarat's recent 'Farm-Factory-Fabric-Fashion-Foreign' Textile Policy, which is aimed at strengthening the entire textile value-chain.

Government Initiatives

The Indian government has come up with a number of export promotion policies for the textiles sector. It has also allowed 100 per cent FDI in the Indian textiles sector under the automatic route.

Some of initiatives taken by the government to further promote the industry are as under:

- Duty free entitlement to garment exporters for import of trimmings, embellishments and other specified items increased from 3 per cent to 5 per cent. This initiative is expected to generate an additional RMG exports estimated at Rs 10,000 crore (US$ 1.61 billion).
- The government has also proposed to extend 24/7 customs clearance facility at 13 airports and 14 sea ports resulting in faster clearance of import and export cargo.
- The proposal for imposing duty on branded items was dropped providing relief to the entire value chain.
- The Ministry of Textiles has approved a 'Scheme for promoting usage of geotechnical textiles in North East Region (NER)' in order to capitalise on the benefits of geotechnical textiles. The scheme has been approved with a financial outlay of Rs 427 crore (US$ 69.12 million) for five years from 2014-15.
- The Ministry of Textiles, Government of India plans to enter into an agreement with Flipkart to provide an online platform to handloom weavers to sell their products.
- The foundation stone of the Trade Facilitation Centre and Craft Museum was laid by Mr Narendra Modi, Prime Minister of India at Varanasi.
- Detailed arrangement for purchase of cotton from the farmers by the Cotton Corporation of India Ltd (CCI) under the Minimum Support Price Operation was monitored. 343 purchase centers were finalised in consultation with the State Governments after meetings with officers of CCI and the cotton producing states, resulting in streamlining of operations.

Road Ahead

The future for the Indian textile industry looks promising, buoyed by both strong domestic consumption as well as export demand. With consumerism and disposable income on the rise, the retail sector has experienced a rapid growth in the past decade with the entry of several international players like Marks & Spencer, Guess and Next into the Indian market. The organised apparel segment is expected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of more than 13 per cent over a 10-year period.

Indian Apparel Market

The Indian apparel market has demonstrated resilience and growth in an environment characterized by slow economic growth. The domestic apparel market, which was worth INR 207,400 crore (~USD 38 billion) as of 2012, is expected to grow at a compound average growth rate (CAGR) of 9% over the next decade. Further, the recent omission of excise duty on branded apparel has provided an impetus to retailers in terms of the overall market sentiment.

The Menswear Market

With a market size of INR 87,500 crore (USD 16 billion) in 2012, menswear is the largest segment in India's apparel market, accounting for 42% of the overall market. In comparison, womenswear makes up 38%, while kidswear comprises 20%, of the market.

Market Size and Growth Projections

The menswear market can be divided into various categories including woven shirts, trousers, denims, winterwear, innerwear, T-shirts, suits, activewear, ethnic wear and dailywear. The woven shirts category is the single largest within the menswear market, followed by trousers and denim. The menswear market is expected to grow at a CAGR of 8.5% over the next five years to reach INR 131,000 crore (USD 24 billion) by 2017.

(Source: Technopak Advisors)

High Growth Categories

Denim, activewear and T-shirts are high growth categories within menswear segment with CAGRs of 16%, 14%, and 12% respectively. Despite the not so optimistic economic scenario of 2012, the demand for denim is growing among men, especially with the younger generation. The entire denim market of India hinges around the men's denim segment which contributes 80% to the market. The heightened acceptance of casual or 'Friday' dressing, and the penetration of denim into Tier II and Tier III cities and rural India are contributing to the growth of men's denim in India. The activewear category primarily constitutes of sportswear, gymwear, and swimwear. Increasing health consciousness has made sports, gym, jogging, swimming, yoga, etc. an essential part of modern life, especially in metros, as a result of which the demand for activewear is on the rise within Indian menswear market. The shift from formal attire to comfort-oriented casual attire is driving the market for men's T-shirts, alongside the demand for denim.

Market Trends

Menswear consumers are in a phase of transition; they no longer want to stick to wearing apparel of defined styles and silhouette but also want to experiment with the look of the clothing. The demand for occasion-specific clothing is rising within the menswear segment, e.g., the modern Indian male can be seen in activewear at the gym in the morning; in formal shirts, trousers, and suits during office hours; in smart casuals in the evening; and in dailywear/sleepwear at night. The demand for ethnic dressing at special occasions like marriages and social functions is also a distinct trend. Many brands have specifically forayed into men's ethnicwear to cater to this demand.

The menswear segment is also witnessing an increase in the demand for colored bottomwear. In addition to the traditional colours, viz. black, blue, brown and grey, Indian men have started experimenting with newer colours like red, green, orange, etc. Almost all domestic and international brands have started offering men's bottomwear in newer colours; they are also optimistic about the growth of coloured trousers and denim.

Another interesting trend in the menswear market is the steady growth in the premium tailoring segment comprising the fashion designers and the bespoke / luxury segment. Customers in the super premium segment are willing to pay a premium to ensure that their tailor-made clothing reflects their own personality and also helps them differentiate themselves and get noticed.

The Womenswear Market

The INR 78, 500 crore (USD 14.4 billion) worth womenswear market contributes 38% of the total apparel market of India. The growth of this market is more rapid than the menswear market. With the relatively lower penetration of brands, and the growing disposable income of modern women, this segment has become the focus of many Indian and international brands.

Market Size and Growth Projections

The womenswear segment comprises various categories that include sarees, salwar kameez, innerwear, blouse, winterwear, sleepwear, tops/shirts, trousers, skirts, denim, T-shirts, etc. Indian ethnicwear, which includes saree, salwar kameez, and blouse, is the biggest category within the segment with a 75% share of the entire womenswear market. The market is expected to grow at a CAGR of 9% for the next five years to reach a figure of INR 121, 400 crore (USD 22.3 billion) by 2017.

High Growth Categories

Denim, innerwear, and tops/shirts/T-shirts are the high growth categories within the women swear segment, a consequence of the growing acceptance of women's western wear in the Indian market. Denim is growing at CAGR of 17%, women's innerwear at 14%, and tops/shirts/T-shirts at 11%. Denim is penetrating deeper among women in the metros and mini metros, especially among the younger generation. Even working women in smaller cities have started accepting denim as a casual outfit. The growing focus of retailers and brands on women's denim will also contribute to its further penetration. The high growth of the innerwear category is driven by the transition of innerwear from a utility-based product to an aspirational one.

Market Trends

With increasing women in the workforce, and the growing economic independence of women, the demand for women's westernwear is at an all-time high, thanks to which women's westernwear is emerging a clear winner in the womenswear market. This trend is expected to continue as more women enter into the workforce or aspire to follow the lifestyle of working women. Within working women, there is a clear trend indicating the growing acceptance of women's dresses and western formalwear. The working women in the metros and mini metros, in addition to traditional sarees and salmar kameez, are moving towards dresses, formal suits, and business attire. Though these markets may remain relatively small, they are expected to grow rapidly.

2. USE OF ESTIMATES

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) requires the management of the Company to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported balances of assets and liabilities and disclosures relating to the contingent liabilities, if any, as at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of income and expenses during the year. Examples of such estimates include provisions for doubtful debts, employee retirement benefit plans, provision for income tax and the useful lives of fixed assets. The difference between the actual results and estimates are recognized in the period in which results are known or materialized.

3. FIXED ASSETS

Fixed assets are stated at historical cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. Cost includes purchase price and all other attributable cost to bring the assets to its working condition for the intended use.

Subsequent expenditures related to an item of tangible asset are added to its book value only if they increase the future benefits from the existing asset beyond its previously assessed standard of performance.

Projects under which assets are not ready for their intended use are shown as Capital Work-in-Progress. Cost includes cost of land, materials, construction, services, borrowing costs and other overheads relating to projects.

4. DEPRECIATION

Tangible Fixed Assets

Pursuant to Companies Act, 2013 ('the Act') being effective from 1 April 2014, the Company has revised depreciation rates on tangible fixed assets as per the useful life specified in Part 'C' of Schedule II of the Act.

In accordance with AS-6 "Depreciation", depreciation on tangible fixed assets is computed on considering useful life provided in the Schedule - II of the Act. During the preceding years, the Company was providing depreciation on written down value basis at the rate prescribed in Schedule XIV of the Companies Act, 1956.

Pursuant to Companies Act, 2013 ('the Act') being effective from April 1, 2014, the Company has revised depreciation rates on tangible fixed assets as per useful life specified in Part 'C' of Schedule II of the Act. And due to the same there has been a change in the estimated useful life of depreciable tangible assets which affects the depreciation in the current period and in each period during the remaining useful life of the assets. As the change is only in regard to accounting estimate requiring an adjustment of the carrying amount of tangible assets. The same do not require adjustment in the financial information for the years ended on March 31, 2014, 2013, and 2012.

In respect of assets whose useful life had already exhausted as on 1 April 2014, has been adjusted in Reserves and Surplus in accordance with requirements of Para 7 of Schedule II of the Act. However there were no such assets which do not have useful life as on 01.04.2014.

5. BORROWING COSTS

Borrowing cost includes interest and amortization of ancillary costs incurred in connection with the arrangement of borrowings. Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalized as part of the cost of the respective asset. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period they occur.

6. IMPAIRMENT OF ASSETS

The company assesses at each reporting date whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the company estimates the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's (including goodwill) recoverable amount is the higher of an assets net selling price and its value in use. The recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets. Where the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining net selling price, recent market transactions are taken into account, if available. If no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used.

(ii) After impairment, depreciation/ amortisation is provided on the revised carrying amount of the asset over its remaining useful life.

7. INVESTMENTS

Investments, which are readily realizable and intended to be held for not more than one year from the date on which such investments are made, are classified as current investments. All other investments are classified as long-term investments.

Foreign investment is allowed up to 100% under automatic route in our Company.
